CAMPAIGN AGAINST FEMALE FETICIDE AND PROTECTION OF GIRL CHILD

The women has to suffer from the mother's womb is not a new concept. This concept is as old as the civilization itself. Mainly after two world wars the numbers of female feticide is growing at an alarming speed. India has more female feticide as cases filed in India, Its 416 in December 2007 according to the PCPNDT Act. About 5-7 lacs girls a year or 2000 girls a day go missing in India due to female feticide. The child sex ratio for the age group of 0-6 years has currently 927 per 1000 boys. Punjab has 798 girls, Haryana 819, Delhi 868 and Gujarat 883 per 1000 boys. In all states the girl child sex ratio is declining which is a sever alarming situation.

The PCPNDT Act has been come into existence on 20 Sept. 1994 and be it enacted by Parliament of India. PCPNDT is an 'Act to provide for the prohibition of sex selection, before or after conception and for regulation of pre-natal diagnostic techniques for the purposes of detecting genetic abnormalities or metabolic disorders or chromosomal abnormalities or certain congenital malformations or sex-linked disorders and for the prevention of their misuse for sex determination leading to female feticide and for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto.'

The Pre-conception and Pre-natal Diagnostic Techniques (PCPNDT) Act came into force in for regulation and prevention of misuse of the diagnostic techniques. Subsequently, following a Supreme Court order on its proper implementation certain amendments were made to the Act. The declining sex ratio in India particularly in the 0-6 year age group is a matter of grave concern. It was expected that proper implementation of the PCPNDT Act would check the pre-natal sex determination and elimination of the female fetus within the womb at least to some extent. However, although there has been ample time for implementing the Act, there is no sign that the decline in child sex ratio has been halted.

Most states have set up the infrastructure prescribed in the Act, but this infrastructure is still to be effective. The problem of decline in sex ratio is very grave in almost all over India as on today.

According to the Registrar General of India & Census Commissioner C. Chandramouli released the provisional data for census 2011; the child sex ratio in the age group of (0-6 years) has declined from 927 females per 1000 males born in 2001 to 914 females per 1000 in the country. The girls have not vanished overnight. Decades of sex determination tests and female feticide that has acquired genocide proportions are finally catching up with states in India. The girl child campaigners urge that the imbalance is there because parents continue to view daughters as financial liabilities and sons as earning members. Literacy plays a vital role for development. As female literacy is low in the country, the status of women is also very low. The women don't have any say at the family level. Early girl child marriage is rampant. Strong son preference prevails in the rural as well as urban areas too. Most of the male persons want at least two leaving sons at each family level. This is also one of the reasons for declining girl child sex ratio in the country. To address the above problem, after comparing the child population (0-6 years) from 1961 to 2011, it clearly brings out the fact that after 1991 there has been consistent rise in overall sex ratio. On the other hand, the fall in child sex ration has been unabated since 1961 census. As per the 2011 census of India, it has one down to the lowest level ever of 914. The child sex ration in the age group of 0-6 years was 927 in the 2001 census on India. Deep Welfare Organization has organized several workshops, community meetings and awareness programs & activities like street plays, Nukkad Nataks etc. in Delhi, Bihar & Jharkhand.

WOMEN EMPOWERMENT & DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

The discrimination against women is widespread in the area of health, education and so on, the key to human development. Women are being conferred secondary status with little or no “say” in the decision making process, within the family and in the society. Most of the women's work inside the house goes unnoticed and unpaid. Even outside the house, they remain underpaid. Education of women calls for urgent attention in order to reduce the inequalities, exploitation and discrimination against the marginalized groups of society and thus eliminating the thousands of social evils with the best remedy called “Education”. Women still lag behind men in Education.

Discrimination against women is deeply rooted in societies' overall perception. The girl child deemed as a liability where as whether the boys are considered to be an asset. Educating the boys as regarded as an investment for future economic return where as investing in girls education is deemed as immediate economic loss and deprivation of a loyal and unpaid household helper, who will do household chores, take care of younger siblings and help in agriculture activities in rural areas. The general perception in India is that since girls are to be married and sent to another's house, investing in their education is not a viable option.

Considering the above situation, we have designed all our activities in terms of women empowerment. When we seat for writing achievements in women Empowerment then firstly, the preliminary census report of 2011 comes before us, as per Report present female ratio is 940 compare to 933 and as such there is an increase of 7 female in 1000 in Ten years. It is a positive sign but women literacy rate is 65% compare to men literacy of 82%. That means Gender discrimination/ Gaps is high and large no. of women is still away from Education. The other problems like Child marriage, Domestic violence, Dowry death, Rape and Crime against women are too high to solve by the Govt. alone. DEEP is fighting in all way for changing the Life of women through knowledge, legal awareness camps, information and training.

In general, the socio-economic condition of a woman is very poor in tribal area of Jharkhand. They are daily wage bread earner and semi skilled. Most of them are urban and rural poor. They don't have any means of livelihood. Deep Welfare Organisation thinks that the Self Help Group (SHG) is a better way to rebuild their life. Believing in this simple strategy, Deep Members and community co-ordinators are working hard on SHG formation continuously. Till date Deep has helped in formation and promotion of 75 SHGs. In Delhi and Jharkhand, Deep Welfare Organisation have formed 10 Self-Help-groups in which 200 women are active members and actively participating to improve their socio-economic conditions. The Deep Welfare Organisation is empowering them through organizing various capacities development program. Deep Members and community coordinators are working hard under the leadership of local women leader SHG formation in East Singhbhum district of Jharkhand. They are continuously visiting remote villages of East Singhbhum and meeting with illiterate women, adolescent girls, hearing day-by-day economic and social problems and give them hope for fighting the hurdles. Most of the villagers belong to Scheduled caste and Schedule tribes' community. They are forming SHGs. Deep is trying to empower them with small income generation programs. Deep Welfare also organized various talks programme on small savings habit with the SHG groups. The bank officials and organization working on micro credit were the resource persons. As a result, the members of the SHGs understood the importance of small saving habit. Thereafter, members of the Self-Help- Groups started nominal savings in the group. They are also doing inter-loaning amongst themselves. This is a huge financial assistance to the members of the SHGs. Moreover, the office bearers of the Self Help Groups are also acquiring the skills in day-to-day functioning.

- Organized 10 Mahila Panchayats
- Organized 5 legal awareness camps
- Formed 90 SHGs in Delhi and Jharkhand

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

During our various program implementations we found that, violation of Child Rights is rampant due to basically lack of awareness of the parents, ignorance of the government primary stakeholders. Child's education is seriously ignored. A large number of child laborers has been found in our target areas are engaged in different jobs and engaged with household work. The girl children are extremely neglected and majority are drop out from regular school. Malnutrition among the younger children and anemia among the adolescent's girls are unchecked. Illiteracy, early marriage, early & repeated pregnancy, number of children, early old age and early death are the normal fate of the girls/women. Obviously extreme poverty of the families is the basic cause. Where food security is uncertain how majority families will think of for education and proper rearing of their children? The issues of the children have not been addressed due to various reasons.

Indian Constitution gives right to education for every child. But despite this provisions no states has achieved 100% children enrolments in school till Now. Large numbers of children away from school. To ensure education for every children Indian govt. enacted new law namely Right to Education Act in the year 2010. Right to education completed two years but no big changes occurred at the ground level. According to UNICEF, at present 44 million children are out of school. Dropout rate has been improved little bit but it is not sufficient. After going through Govt. data and ground reality, DEEP is running different type of Education programs. The organization has been running Non-Formal Education (NFE) centre from last 5 years at Sangam Vihar, Wazirabad, North Delhi.

90 children joined in our centre in 2014, 75% children are girls and belong to Minorities. They are not going any school. They work with parents and parents don't send them school. There is no any Government School at Sangam Vihar, MCD Schools are situated in Jharoda and Wazirabad, Some private school are running but here parents don't have no budget to spent on children's education. Analyzing the situation DEEP started Non-Formal Education and our members visit house to house to convince parents to send their children in centre for only two hours. Some parents were not agreed but most were agreed. For giving better environment for these children we also invited school going children's. After 6 month 50% children got admission in School. But some children are still coming to centre. In the above mentioned target communities about 120 families are living, they don't have Shelters, Rations card, Voter cards and they are living in makeshift home. Their children are not attending any schools. Parents are busy in rag picking. Our members use to visit the rag-picking sights and counsel parents for enrolment of the children in School regularly. Our team have visited residential sight of rag-pickers and called meeting of rag-picker parents. We heard the problems and tried to find out solution so that their children could get education.

One of the aware father was much concerned about children education. He had done a lot in gathering parents and preparing list of children who do not go to school. But all parents want to set up centre in same sight and after much effort no one provided place for running centre. Every land owner wants huge money but DEEP was not in a condition to hire expensive land neither their parents were in conditions so that they could support us. Deep Welfare Organisation has donated Bench Desk, Computers, fan and chairs in different Government and non-government schools in Giridih and Bokaro districts of Jharkhand in Association with Rural Electrification Corporation and National Hydroelectric Power Corporation.

Deep has distributed approx 1135 sets of wooden bench desk 61 computers and approx 550 plastic chairs and 140 ceiling fans in several schools for the use of under privileged children in the previous year, thus we conducted survey of its judicious use and also done impact assessment of the same on the beneficiaries and the schools at all in the following year 2014-15.

Silent Features of educational Programs:

- Running Non formal education centres for drop-out childrens and rag picker children in Sangam Vihar, Wazirabad, Jharoda, Delhi
- Entrepreneurs Development Program for unemployed youths
- Life- Skill Training Programs to the youngsters and women.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING & SKILL DEVELOPMENT

Youth force of any country is the most important populace. This youth force need to be trained on various skills so that they can earn through that skill and help the family too. So several vocational training need to be organize for the youths and women so that they will be earning members and enlighten citizen of our country. In our country, the crisis is in between unemployment and scope of self-employment/employability. At the same time, there are scope of employment and self-employment based on skill development as per the local need of the area. The only option is to develop skill of the youths on different trades so that, they will be self-employed in the future or able to earn money for maintenance of their own and family. This is the only alternative option for the youths of the area for skill development, self-employment & wage employment. To make the youths skill oriented, DEEP imparts vocational training on sewing, cutting, designing and beauty culture to women. The objective is to provide new hopes to the women for enhancing their earning capacities and improve their life. The centre of Deep follows the syllabus and certification from Jan Shikshan Sansthan, Govt. of India. This year Deep has extended capacity of its Vocational training centre in its different district centers of Delhi with the support of Functional Vocational Training & Research Society, Bangaluru.

Salient features of Vocational Training:

HEALTH AWARENESS PROGRAMME

The health services in the country have been the responsibility of the government, which provides curative and preventive health services free of cost to the consumer from primary to tertiary level. The total government cost account for about 18% of the overall health spending and 0.9% of the Gross Domestic product (GDP). In contrast, a fee-levying private sector plays a dominant role in the provision of individual curative care through ambulatory services and accounts for about 82% of the overall health expenditure and 4.2% of the GDP. The data on nationwide health care utilization rates show that private health services are directed mainly at providing primary health care and financed from private resources, which could place a disproportionate burden on the poor (Country Health Profile- WHO, 2005).

The provision of health care by the government (public sector) is a responsibility shared by state, central and local governments, although it is effectively a state responsibility in terms of service delivery. State and local governments incur about three-quarters and the central government about one-quarter of public spending on health. The health status of Indians, is still a cause for grave concern, especially that of the rural population. To address this, Central Government launched a program “National Rural Health Mission” in April 2005 with the objective to reduce the burden of infant (63/ Per 1000-SRS) and maternal mortality (407/100000 live birth SRS, 1998) in the country by using strategy of decentralization and improved management system such as autonomy to health institutions, involvement of local people, timely procurement of goods/drugs, cadre management and improving monitoring system. The National Rural Health Mission (NRHM) has to face several challenges in terms of lack of human resources for reaching quality health services to the poorest households in the remotest rural areas, making the public health system accountable, affordable and accessible by improved management and community action, developing pro-people partnerships with the non-governmental sector to provide quality health care services to the poor, making health professionals and paramedics deliver quality health services in remote rural areas through improved human resource & management, and forging alliances with wider determinants of health under the Panchayat like water, sanitation, social and gender equality. DEEP is much concern about healthy life of every citizen especially for Rural India. Govt. has launched National Rural Health Mission for improving Life of rural peoples. But NRHM is not sufficient to look after every one. We organized health awareness camp in Sasaram block in Rohtas District and Kudra block of Kaimur district. Found that people was not aware NRHM benefits. DEEP has organized Health awareness two camps at Delhi, Bihar and Jharkhand. In Jharkhand Camp was organized at East Singhbhum District and North District in Delhi.

There was Approx 2500 people took benefits of Health awareness camp. In Delhi DEEP is giving services for improving health of the slum area people regularly. Two camps were organized in Sangam Vihar and Burari for free health check up and mental counseling. Deep is associated with Pulse Polio Abhiyan for last 8 years. Our volunteers were visit home to home for giving polio vaccine. In North Delhi Deep actively participated all Govt. health programs with Govt. Departments. Aproximate 300 patients were benefited from local Govt. Dispensary through our initiative (in Jharoda, Wazirabad & Jagatpur Dispensary run By Delhi Govt.). Our volunteers and members insured the weaker section people and created awareness that Govt. providing free and better health service compare to private and expensive health hospitals.

Salient features of Health awareness Programme

- 2 Health Awareness camp organised in Jharkhand
- 2 Health Awareness camp Organised in Bihar
- 2 Health Awareness camp organised in Delhi
- Participated in Pulse polio Abhiyan in Delhi
- Creating Awareness about NRHM, Bihar, Jharkhand & M.P.

HIV / AIDS AWARENESS PROGRAM

HIV/AIDS have been rapidly spread all over India due to lack of awareness among the common people especially for the migrant laborers. In the project target area due to illiteracy and lack of exposure to mass media avenues people remain ignorant on the facts concerning HIV and AIDS. Most of the people in the project area either migration-in from the rural areas in search of job or migration-out from the villages to nearby towns and other cities in search of job during the lean period. And it is this group that is most vulnerable and not made aware of the risks involved. Thus the main problem with regard to HIV is creating awareness among the masses about the same. The first AIDS case in India was detected in 1986 and since then HIV infection has been reported in all states and union territories. The spread of HIV in India has been uneven. India has a population of 1.21 core and around half of them are adults in the sexually active age group. Although much of India has a low rate of infection but certain places have been more affected than others. HIV epidemics are more severe in the southern half of the country and the far north-east. The highest HIV prevalence is found in Andhra Pradesh, Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu and Karnataka in the south; and Manipur and Nagaland in the north-east. In the southern states, HIV is primarily spread through hetero-sexual contact. Infections in the North-east are mainly found amongst injecting drug users (IDUs) and sex workers. All of us have to take promise and precautions to stop spreading HIV. And only awareness can do good job in preventing AIDS. Deep is continuously acting pivotal role in spreading awareness from last eight years. In 2015 our organization have done a good job in mass awareness through IEC campaign in Community. Twenty such camps were organized by Deep. Deep has a good team of young students who are expert in acting/ street play. More than 50 street plays were organized in East Singhbhum district of Jharkhand, Rohtas and Kaimur District of Bihar and in Slum areas of North Delhi. 10000 printed HIV/AIDS awareness materials distributed. All programs had been coordinated by Shashi Bhushan. Resources have been mobilized from communities. Some private companies and agencies provided printed materials, condoms, Banners and posters.

Salient features of HIV/AIDS Awareness program

- Organized 5 Camps for HIV/AIDS awareness through IEC campaign in Community
- 9 street plays were organized
- 100000 printed IEC material & Pamphlets on HIV/AIDS awareness distributed
- Free condoms distributed on construction sites & Community.

RURAL DEVELOPMENT & AGRICULTURE

As a development organization 'Sustainable Livelihood' of the target population is one of the most important activities of DEEP. To achieve this agenda our organization has followed sustainable livelihood approaches. The sustainable livelihoods approach is a way to improve understanding of the livelihoods of poor people and the poverty situation and to act accordingly so that it solved by the people themselves. As on today, our agriculture systems after seeing side effect of pesticides and chemical using in farming. But people are not much concerned how to get rid of from pesticides food. Deep Welfare Organization is much concerned to save our farming from pesticides.

We are continuously generating awareness through our program known as Krishi samadhan, Kisan Sabha, help of local Panchayats, This type of programs have organized in Kaimur district and Rohtas district of Bihar and 5 Kisan Sabha programme organized in Jharkhand in Kharsawa-Saraikela district of Jharkhand. Our experts told to farmers how organic food and farming are safe than pesticides farming. Several surveys and studies have attempted to examine and compare conventional and organic systems of farming.

ENVIRONMENT PROTECTION, WATER & SANITATION PROGRAM

In our rural target area, the people don't have awareness on Forest & Livelihood related issues. So, there is high Deforestation in the nearby forests. The people of the area need to aware regarding the forest based livelihood which will not destroy the forest. At the same time, forest rights act has to be discussed. The people of the area to be motivated that, they can use the non-timber forest products without cutting the trees. The forest protection committees also will be strengthening through this camp. Today global warming affects our lives and climate change is destroying our life through natural calamity like Flood, Drought, Tsunami etc. Some time ago when environmentalists and activists warned that if we will not save environment then life will be more difficult in future.

Deep is running campaign to protect and clean environments. We use to aware Community peoples in every meeting and people gathering. We trained our SHG members for protecting environments. Deep is organising regular awareness program under the project of National Environment Awareness Campaign with the help of Ministry of Environment & Forest for last 6 years. Deep Organised Camps in North Delhi and Played Nukkad Natak. Deep is spreading awareness about clean rivers. In 2011, hundreds of new plants have been planted on barren land in Ghatshila block of East-Singbhum in Jharkhand by Deep. We have launched special programme for plantation and every members and volunteers have to plant 20 plants in every years. Deep is truly committed to save environments. Accordingly a set of awareness campaign and action component has been designed in the plan already mentioned above which will be very much useful for the people of the area for promoting forest based livelihood opportunities. Deep has taken initiative for installation of hand-pumps in Jharkhand with the support of Oil and Natural Gas Corporation Limited. The hand-pumps were installed in Bokaro district of Jharkhand in several drinking water affected villages. A Ghat on River Argadaha was constructed in Pratappur, Block Jamua in Giridih Jharkhand.

SENIOR CITIZENS WELFARE PROGRAM

Deep Welfare Organization has been actively working for the cause of senior citizens since its inception. Deep has organized several seminars, workshops and other activities in the past also for senior citizens. This year also DEEP has worked on multiple ways for the senior citizens. Elderly or old age consists of ages nearing or surpassing the average life span of human beings. The boundary of old age cannot be defined exactly because it does not have the same meaning in all societies. People can be considered old because of certain changes in their activities or social roles. Also old people have limited regenerative abilities and are more prone to disease, syndromes, and sickness as compared to other adults. The medical study of the aging process is called gerontology and the study of diseases that afflict the elderly is geriatrics. The United Nations World Assembly on Ageing, held at Vienna in 1982, formulated a package of recommendations which gives high priority to research related to developmental and humanitarian aspects of ageing (United Nations, 1987). The plan of action specifically recommended that "International exchange and research cooperation as well as data collection should be promoted in all the fields having a bearing on ageing, in order to provide a rational basis for future social policies and action. Special emphasis should be placed on comparative and crosscultural studies in ageing". The phenomenon of population ageing is becoming a major concern for the policy makers all over the world, for both developed and developing countries, during last two decades. But the problems arising out of it will have varied implications for underdeveloped, developing and developed countries.

In India the size of the elderly population, i.e. persons above the age of 60 years is fast growing although it constituted only 7.4% of total population at the turn of the new millennium. For a developing country like India, this may pose mounting pressures on various socio economic fronts including pension outlays, health care expenditures, fiscal discipline, savings levels etc. Again this segment of population faces multiple medical and psychological problems.
